

From the Office of Santa Claus

Dear Billy,

Ho Ho Ho! Christmas is almost here, are you ready? The elves are already loading up the sleigh with gifts so that I can deliver them on Christmas Eve. I hear your gift is already in the sleigh, along with a gift for your friend Brian. Are you still enjoying that car you received last year?

Be sure to tell Brian that both of you must go to sleep early on Christmas Eve; you must be sound asleep before I visit your homes.

I hear you have been helping with chores around the house, which is terrific! Mrs. Claus is busy mending my red suit, but said to be sure to tell you she is proud of you.

Billy, you've been such a good boy, keep it up. I'm off to feed the reindeer be dinner is ready.

Merry Christmas!

Love, Santa
